We did not at all expect the observed behaviors that emerged after increasing the medication dose to 15 mg. We very quickly decreased the medication dose to back to 10mg before taking participants off the medication all together after noticing that some participants symptoms did not subside. Before taking participants off the dose 2 of the 7 participants taking 77777777 who were affected by these side effects dropped out of the study all together.

The Delilah Project was cut short due to incidents unrelated to the use of 77777777. Due to this, the results of this study of 7777777 are incomplete.
